

Amit Singh - Guitar and Backing vocals

Amit started playing guitar in the mid 90s in his teens, starting one fateful summer when his mother decided that he should either learn a musical instrument or go to computer class. After about a year of lessons, his guitar teacher quit(!) leaving him to mostly figure things out for himself. He played in light music and western music bands in high school and college in India, but then didn't play for a long time until moving to Singapore in 2010, where he jammed regularly with friends there. After moving to the Bay Area in 2012, he played with BOOMM, another local band, until joining VSM. He has varied musical interests, but is a sucker for cheesy 80's pop and his spirit animal is Alex Lifeson of Rush.
